An Order of News, to Go Please!

By Nathan Miller ~ Daily Bull

It's a hard job being a writer for the Daily Bull. Long hours and low pay, no health insurance, and hardly any vacation time makes it that much harder to come up with great ideas for articles. Should I go with quantity over quality, or vice versa? After many long seconds of thought, I decided it would be best to go with 75% quantity and 75% quality for a grand total of 150% the effort. What follows are a number of articles that aren't quite to real boys yet, but are fine being little kids for the time being.

Chemical Brothers Caught Doing Crystal Method

The popular electronic band The Chemical Brothers were caught in the act of doing their fellow DJs, The Crystal Method, this past weekend. Drugs were not a factor, and it is believed that all four DJs were completely willing in the Big Beat Orgy. Chemical Tom had this to say:

How To: Be Friends with Anyone

By Nathan Miller ~ Daily Bull

If there's one thing I've learned from my thousands of dollars in tuition, it's that you can be friends with just about anybody. Look at me for instance. Now stop staring. I mean, why would anyone want to be friends with someone as insane, unique, clever, terroristical, and downright dramatically wonderful as me? I must be doing something right. I bet it's because I'm a minority- a minority of one.

Proudly hailing from the great state of Pennsylvania, I truly am an outsider. Sure, there are people that are from other countries like Asia or Africa, but people are expecting them. They're all over the place. We Pennsylvanians toss it up. It's like BAM!, out of nowhere you find out I'm from Pennsylvania, and then you're in shell shock. They're all like, "Seriously, where is that place anyways? It might as well be some weird country in the Middle East or something." They're just living in denial of the fact that they're jealous they don't live there.

On top of not being from Michigan or states just like Michigan, I use a Mac. Yeah, I've heard just about every Mac/Apple computer joke under the sun, and you know what? We're still better than you. And you. And you sitting there wondering why your friend is making death threats against me. Let me tell ya though; there's no better ego booster than telling someone you're better than them. Try it sometime. You'll feel great, and whomever you just pwned will be left wondering what the heck just happened.

Adding to the awesomeness is the fact that I ski, and have been for a very long time. I'd like to give a shout out to all my fellow skiers who have stayed the course and not strayed off into the realm of snowboarding. Remember: we're better than they are. They have one board, and that's all. We have two skis, and two poles. Logically 5* beats 1, so any snowboarders might as well give up defending themselves and take up skiing. Case closed.

Course, then there's the whole bit about me wanting to take over the world. Yeah, we've all read my other articles about my Super Bonds and everything, so I'm not gonna go there. I'm just reaffirming the fact that if I survive long enough to be a world dominator, it'll be totally insane. Yeah, you might be thinking to yourself, "Dude, this guy is messed up, he'll never take over the world. He can't even take over West McNair." Well you'll see. You'll all see.

Oh yeah, by the way: it's soda. I can't let the Axis of Evil win and call it pop, because it's definitely soda. Sure, this and probably this whole article is going to get a little disclaimer at the end saying how the Daily Bull doesn't support the plain truth, but it had to be done. It's soda, not pop. Just wanted to clarify.

Now, if you were to do an eHarmony-like scan of yourself and send it to me, you would probably be surprised to find out we are perfect matches, depending on your gender and how many levels of compatibility we are compatible with being compatible on.

So there you go Jimmy Jimmy. Even though people are wildly different or just wild in general, you can still be friends with them. It's just a lot easier if you have a lot in common with them, or nothing at all. That way, you can agree to disagree, and by some magical movie law, you will become best of friends and maybe fall in love. That or somebody gets killed, but nobody wants that to happen, so let's focus on the positive.

"Yeah, we were having some fun messing around with Crystal Method. World man, I really liked when his finger was on my buttons."

Added Chemical Ed, "We'd also like to invite any other electronic or Trip-Hop bands to get down, cuz there's a party over here, so you might as well be here, where the people care."

It isn't known how many other bands may take up the Chemical Brothers' offer, but Fatboy Slim confirmed he would be a no show. When reached his answering machine responded, "Fatboy Slim is fucking in heaven."

Local Man Loses Head Over Lost Head

Pat Muldowney, and expert paint chipper and table grinder, recently lost his head after losing his head. Thought to have been missing for over three days, Pat's head is beginning cause Pat's body to lose its grip on reality.

"Where is it?! I can't believe you, you rotten head! It's all your fault for everything that ever happens!" Gurgles Pat's headless, walking corpse. "Now look what you've done! We'll never be able to recover from a loss like this! C3PO never had it this bad when he lost his head in Episode VI! If I don't find you in the next four and a half minutes, I'm gonna blow you up! Better yet, I'll throw you off the MEEM! Yeah, that's what I'll do!"

Pat's body's lack of vision may be hampering it's attempts at re-acquiring it's head, as well as the fact it cannot figure out how to leave Fisher or walk in a straight line. "To hell with seeing, all I need are my feet to kick around and connect with my face! Then I'll find that sucker and give him what he deserves!" said 90% of Mr. Muldowney.

Pat's head declined to comment.

NASCAR Redesigns Tracks to Include Squares, Triangles

To compete with rival sports, Nascar has redesigned its circuit of tracks to include squares, triangles, pentagons, and the hexagrams. Brian France, NASCAR's

"With these new changes in place, we hope to see a ten-fold increase in the number of crashes, and a four-fold increase in deaths by explosion," explains Mr. France. "Unlike baseball and golf, we are no longer focused on keeping our

a circle for hours on end."

"Plus, who doesn't want to see cars crushed into tiny pieces as the try to take a sixty degree turn at 150 mph? I know I do," added Brian.

While some people may be against higher numbers of driver fatalities, it should be noted that in Great Britain, if two teams are tied at the end of a match of cricket, they are to battle each other with their bats until a winner is declared, typically through a last man standing/conscious eliminator.

Emeril Makes Last Bam!

Emeril Lagasse, world-renowned chef and TV personality, made his last Bam! before a live studio audience mid-February. In a show of culinary expertise, Emeril managed to bake himself and twelve others into a rutabaga pie, then serve the delicacy to the audience.

"I always considered Emeril to be just another chef, you know? It never occurred to me that he also was a magician," says Annie Putman, Dining Services Taste Tester and CIA spy. "I totally wasn't expecting him to cook himself in an oven and then feed us him and part of his staff. 5 stars."

The rutabaga pie went on to feed a grand total of 314 people, which included 79 hungry Ethiopians who happened to be in the neighborhood. Though some were opposed to what they called cannibalism, others were more than glad to have their fair share of the pie.

"That was most delicious pie in the history of pies," claimed professional doorknocker Chad Denkins. "I only wish there were seconds. Or even thirds, so I could bring some to my grandma in Istanbul. She'd like that."

Emeril's last Bam! catapulted him well into first place on the most famous chefs list, and any other chefs that wish to take the top spot are going to have to kick it up a lot of notches to catch up. ☹
