Ask Katie Sheets

By Katie Sheets ~ Daily Bull

Dear Katie Sheets,
Did you notice that the Lode stole your idea for an advice column? How does that make you feel?

Sincerely,
Tattle Tail

Dear Tattle Tail,

Hmm. That is interesting. Normally, I would be quite upset that someone had stolen one of my ideas, but this would not be the first time something like this has happened to me. See, I am actually a brilliant inventor. I've been inventing new devices since I was quite young. Contrary to popular belief, I invented the internet, the toaster, and discovered electricity. It's quite obvious that I am one of the greatest minds in the history of the universe. It really does not surprise me that my idea for

Nationalized Porn

By John Pastore ~ Daily Bull

Despite what some counter-culture terrorist groups may have you believe, our nation is suffering from a severe shortage of pornography. Men and women are going throughout their daily existence without seeing a single sexually exciting image. Not only that, but well over half of the nation goes through the week without having a single orgasm. This is a public health crisis.

Consider these surprising health benefits: orgasm causes a release of vital serotonin and dopamine into the brain - without which the human brain simply can not think. Studies have shown that the nation's population as a whole is overstressed and under exercised - potentially lethal ways to live. Similar studies have found that orgasm and the preceding events are exceptional ways to prevent either condition - as the muscles of the body are uniformly worked out in the build up to orgasm, and then uniformly forced to relax following. Experts have found that our society is suffering from poor inter-social relationships. The pair bonding experience of shared orgasm could easily prevent this. Orgasm with a friend makes for an exceptionally powerful social experience, and orgasm by one self can fake it well enough. The positive health benefits that sex provides humanity are amazing. Therefore, the effort to suppress them can only be attributed to a terrorist conspiracy.

Why would anyone want to cause such strife in our otherwise peaceful if somewhat sticky society? If one considers the membership statistics of the most violent groups on the planet, a pattern emerges. It is well known that in any society, young and hopeless males commit the majority of crimes. This is because heightened levels of testosterone have been connected to high rates of aggression, violence and deviant behavior.

These unfortunate criminal tendencies can be curbed by reducing testosterone. Testosterone is naturally consumed in the testes during spermatogenesis. The process for creating sperm is aided by another hormone called Follicle Stimulating Hormone (FSH), which is produced primarily when sperm levels are not maxed out - or when sexual activity is high. This in turn accelerates the rate at which androgen-binding proteins are produced, which will pull testosterone out of the surrounding fluid to drive the Sertoli cells to make more sperm. Once more sperm is made, FSH production drops off, reducing the level of androgen binding proteins produced, and raising it's blood concentration. In other words, the more sex, the less testosterone. If this cycle is interrupted, perhaps due to abstinence or a religious awakening, testosterone levels will reach their maximum concentration within 2 weeks.

Barring the exceptionally prudent, (who wouldn't be reading the Daily-Bull anyways), most males haven't gone for two weeks without masturbating since puberty. If such a release was continuously prevented, the physical consequences would be dire. The victim would be filled with muscle and rage building androgens, which break down into hair follicle destroying Di-Hydro-Testosterone, leaving them frustrated, violent and balding. This leads inexorably to stupid and violent crime. If enough of these frustrated young men get together and become frustrated as a group, they may well up organizing into an ultra-violent gang, destroying not only our sense of collective innocence but the occasional famous land mark or milk bar. The ensuing vetches would be all horrorshow me droogs.

As easily frightened citizens, we can't allow such dangerous gangs to form! Doing otherwise would go against the principles set down by the founding fathers when they built this great nation. If they knew that we were so morally lax as to allow our youth to fall into such a condition, they'd rise from their graves and zombie-march to Washington. In order to prevent this calamity, we must strike the heart of the problem, the unfamiliarity of and disgust at the human body.

To this end, I have submitted to the federal government a petition to nationalize the pornography industry. Once the Department Of Universal Copulation and Human Exploration (DOUCHE) is formed, it's first actions shall be to rapidly distribute pornography to all Americans on a grand scale. To expand the already great popularity of Internet porn, DOUCHE will provide vouchers for use at any American porn site. Taxes will be lowered to support the hardworking producers of pornographic content. Finally, to bridge the digital divide and ensure equal access to pornographic materials, DOUCHE will form and oversee a registry cross-referencing the names, postal addresses and social security numbers of all citizens, regardless of age, sexuality, gender, colour, creed, religion, disability and prudishness.

History has shown that civilizations that are well-adjusted sexually are also well adjusted socially and economically. Some examples include Ancient Greece, Egypt, 1960's America and Modern Japan. Once Total Pornographic Saturation is realized, America will enter into a golden age. Technological development will speed to a feverish pace, harmful prejudices will be covered in a wave of jism, and the barriers which prevent us from speaking freely will be knocked up and knocked down. Society will at last want to choose sustainable and more environmentally friendly options - such as reducing the brightness of light-bulbs, consuming more fruits and appropriately shaped vegetables, and a return to (very) public transit as the favored mode of getting from point A to getting off at point B. We will at last be able to return to an era of free-or-at-least-heavily-subsidized love. ☺ an advice column was stolen just as all my other amazingly brilliant ideas were stolen.

The writers at The Lode can try as they wish to one up my column. But deep down we all know that The Lode is merely a misspelling of what it actually is.

*Dear Katie Sheets,
My co-workers call me a nickname that I don't like. How can I tell them to stop?*

*Sincerely,
Wrongfully Dubbed*

Dear Wrongfully Dubbed,

I've been given a couple pretty awful nick names, but nothing compares to the nickname I gained while working at the Kwick-e-Mart. Like most gas stations, the Kwicke-Mart was owned by an Indian family. Like most Indians, the owner and his family could barely speak English. And, like most telemarketers, they were mentally, physically, and spiritually (although I could not tell you how) unable to pronounce the word "sheets." Unfortunately for me, the owner thought it would be less confusing for him to refer to all of his American employees by their last names. Every single day I went to work I heard 'Shits, stock de shelves' 'Shits, clean de bathrooms.' 'Shits, run de register.' Needless to say, I am now wary of working at Kwike-Marts.

JOHN EARNEST

I can't really complain, though. My mom's name is Holly.

Love,
Katie Sheets ☺
