Barack Hendrix

By Bert Jerkins ~ Daily Bull

After recently winning the 2008 presidential election, Barack Obama has taken a short leave to visit his dying Grandmother at the hospital for a few days. While there, Grandma Obama had a last wish for Barack, to put on and star in a Jimi Hendrix concert. Not wanting to disappoint the G-Ma, Obama immediately went to work; growing out a Hendrix-inspired afro in a matter of days, thanks to ground-breaking stem cell (dead baby?) research passed by Proposal 2. He has also been ingesting mass amounts of LSD and marijuana (Proposal 1 holla holla) to hopefully play at the full potential and quality of the guitar god himself. When asked how this will affect Obama's presidential plans, he responded with grunts and (Relient K) gibberish, as he was overdosing on a multitude of drugs.

This event has sparked a mass movement and many followers. "This is the con-

How To Piss Off The FAA

By Nathan "Invincible" Miller ~ Daily Bull

With Thanksgiving here and Winter break right around the corner, many of us who live more than an 8 hour drive away take to the skies and decide to fly home. Flying in the modern age is a completely safe and hassle free experience, so long as you blank out right before you go through security and Somalian pirates don't make an appearance on your flight. Fortunately that doesn't happen very often. Unfortunately, it makes things rather unexciting. For those wanting a little bit more action while they fly, try out some of these ideas that I've done or am planning on doing in the near future to make the FAA squirm in their shoes.

Fake limbs in your bags. For some reason my parents thought it'd be funny to give me this fake bloody arms packaged up like grocery meat for Christmas. I thought it was real food at first, but it wasn't. So instead of hiding it away in a closet, I put it on top of my luggage bag that got searched in security. I can only imagine the look on their faces when they found my surprise.

Wear funky shoes. Vibram Five Fingers are my favorite shoes to wear in airports. Not only will you be the only one doing so, when you take them off to go through security the x-ray technicians will, without fail, say something about how there are feet going through the scanner. Then you can tell jokes to the security people, who usually won't tolerate any sort of humor whatsoever.

Only in Japan...

Listen to your iPod all the time, loudly. With the exception of going through the security checkpoint, have your iPod on all the time, even on the plane. Do air drums and guitars for more effect. If they ask you to turn them off, ignore them and keep jamming. Eventually they will leave, I guarantee it.

Fake sending texts on your flight. They

We got our ink back! Hooray! Just in time for everyone to leave and gorge themselves over the holidays. Hooray, break!

Chuck Norris Finally Lost His Cahones

By Michael Senkow ~ Might as well write for the Daily Bull

Chuck Norris sneezes with his eyes open. Chuck Norris can kill two stones with one bird. Chuck Norris doesn't get frost bite, he bites the frost. Over and over again we hear these phrases, that Chuck Norris is a man's man, a powerful man, a man who wields danger and throws courage. He finally met his match though... limp wristed, pansy assed gay men. (Gay men do not follow any of these stereotypes really, and if you don't believe me I have a 6'4 tattooed muscle man who would like to brea..I mean shake your hand.)

Chuck Norris is afraid of the gay protests going on around the country. A few protesters have gone to the Mormon churches who were a primary donation surge in the Prop 8, the proposition in California which took another step towards destroying American liberty and removing the right gay people were given to get married earlier this year, and have done things like created boycott lists for the church and others who donated to the negative cause. Woot, we're finally standing up for ourselves, and you'll see a lot more of it in the coming four years.

always say you're not supposed to use your phone on the plane cause it'll blow the whole thing up somehow. So instead of sending real texts, turn your phone off and act like your sending texts. Do it so obviously that they can't help but notice, and then when they ask you about it, show them your blank screen and say, "Got you good!" They'll then leave you alone so you can send your real texts.

Explode your soda everywhere. If they are generous with their soda [on the flight] and give you the whole can without cracking the top for you, "accidentally" drop it and get it all shook up, then open it. Make sure to be really surprised when you make a sugary mess all over everywhere.

Fill your carry-on with really weird things. A thousand bendy straws, the wrappers from packs of razor blades, a cucumber, a bag of sugar, a couple of Easy buttons, lots of pennies, or the leftovers from three-hole punchers are all perfect. For added bonus, put your bag in the overhead bins and clumsily spill everything all over when you get it out.

Watch really weird movies. Everybody's got laptops these days, so why not exploit them and watch really random movies that'll freak everyone out around you? Rocky Horror Picture Show, Reefer Madness, Casino, or Grindhouse should do the trick. Get a middle or aisle seat (especially by the bathroom where people waiting will have no choice but see what you're watching) for maximum effect.

Start shouting about gremlins on the wing. Look out the window and start a commotion about their being a gremlin on the wing that's dismantling things. When nobody else can see him, say it's because they haven't seen Nightmare at 20,000 feet before and that William Shatner warned you that something like this would happen. ☹ cert of the century man, with Hendrix back, the flowers of the universe are blooming with the petals of a revolution, you know?" states John Lennon's Vegas look-a-like. Thousands have already started what experts are calling, "The Yasgur Movement". The cities left in its shroom-cloud wake have been experiencing behaviors of confusion, laziness, and flying pink sloths with cotton candy noses (delicious!).

John McCain's Alzheimers has been acting up severely and he refuses to believe his lost the elections. He views this concert as a ploy to revolt against his "success" and vows to counteract through military means. "Friends, I will first build a Brick Wall

I wish I had shop skills like this. Thank you Internet.

(pt. 2) around the concert to seal off the hoodlums then immediately incinerate every THC molecule in those hipsters," states McCain from his life-support system in the room adjacent to Grandma Obama's.

Meanwhile, the rest of the U.S. population is wondering why the hell they chose such an unstable president. Dick Cheney has asked Obama to go "shooting" for quails, the KKK has offered to host a BBQ for him, and Ellen DeGeneres wants to go down faster on him than the world-trade center (too early?) she would at the WNBA awards ceremony (dike-metropolis!). ☹

...Sorry Chuck from front

Apparently the whole American Family Association boycotting companies like Ford or McDonald's just because these companies support gay rights isn't the same thing as boycotting organizations that are against gay rights....Chuck Norris is ok with A but not B?

So I'm sorry, but Chuck Norris... you are no longer a man's man. If you're afraid of gay people standing up for their rights for once, what else are you afraid of? Chuck Norris was so scared of gay people, he couldn't even stand up to a Drag Queen? Chuck Norris was so afraid of dykes on bikes that he ran away from a little girl on a tricycle? Chuck Norris was so afraid of twinks (young, skinny, slightly flamey gay men) that he couldn't even eat a hostess twinkie?

Chuck Norris, you fail. ☹

OOH HOT DAMN

Did you know that anyone can write for the Daily Bull? EVEN YOU! How and where do you sign up!? How can you be as cool as Nathan Invincible or Michael Senkow (who isn't actually an official Daily Bull staff member [yet], he just happens to write more than most of the Bull Staff anyway)? All you gotta do is send an article in to dailybull@gmail.com. And that's all.

HOLY MOLY

That is ridiculously easy! You have all break, why not write that article you've been thinking about for so long? There's nothing to lose! Then after break you can come to our meeting, every Wednesday at 9 pm, somewhere in Walker. If you're not sure where, neither are we.
