

DAILY BULL

The Daily Bull is probably not suitable for those under age 18 and should not be taken seriously... like Lode drama!

Thursday, February 25, 2010

Blue cheese contains natural amphetamines. Why are students not informed about this?
~ Mark E. Smith

The Chairs in Dow 641

By Alec Hamer ~ Daily Bull

Now I don't know about you, but every time I step into Dow 641, I get this re-occurring feeling of dread. Not for the class that is about to take place (read: World Cultures), but for the atrocious seating. I mean, seriously. Who designs a chair that leans back an unruly amount with a back that is much too short to be comfortable? I have a bad back to begin with and anytime I forced to sit in a chair that encourages the user to slouch... Well let's just say the outcome can't be any good.

First off, the chairs flex. This wouldn't be a bad thing if it weren't for the fact that the flex point is located right where my kidneys are. It's as if when picking the chairs for the room, the people in charge went out of their way to make sure that any

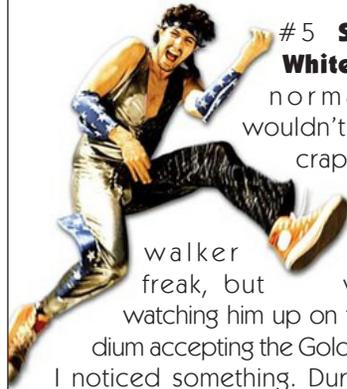

...see OW MY ASS on back

UC's Top 5: Olympics

By Matt 'Undercover Minority' Villa ~ Daily Bull

I haven't truly been watching the 2010 Winter Olympics as intently as I should have been, however a man can only watch the same thing happen for every country for so long before it becomes boring. Despite this, I have noticed quite a few things during the Olympics that caused me to feel either great pride, or annoyance. Here are five reasons for either.

#5 Shaun White. Now, normally I wouldn't give a crap about this Day-board walker freak, but while watching him up on the podium accepting the Gold medal, I noticed something. During the national anthem, he air guitar'd. That's right, Shaun White Air Guitar'd during the national anthem while accepting his Gold Medal, and I couldn't be more proud to be American.

Why, you ask? Think about what that represents. We as Americans seem so laid back in these sports compared to the rest of the world that even our training for snowboarding events is just fucking around with a purpose. That and I realized that snowboarding was created in the United States, in Utah, go figure. (No seriously, how did THAT come about, did a Mormon need to get down a snowy hill really quick, and the only thing available was a plank of wood that gave him a really good idea? I'll never know.)

#4 South Korea. Now this is a big point of annoyance for me, but I'm mostly referring to their speed skating team. In almost every race they are skating dirty, pushing people JUST to the extent they can without getting disqualified. At least once they took their own teammate out with them. Now, I'm not saying they wouldn't have won, they are damn good skaters. It just bugs me that they would tarnish how good they actually are with being overly forceful while doing it.

#3 Hockey. The United States beat Canada in Men's Hockey. Awesome? Yes. Unexpected? Completely. I was totally surprised that the U.S. beat Canada

...see Team Olym-pucks on back

Will the chemicals in acid rain ever get so bad that we have rain bombs?

Pic o' the Day

LOBSTER RAGE FIST

(AN INSTRUCTIONAL GUIDE)

submitted by Richard McClaughry

STUDIO PIZZA

better than sex... even good sex!

482-5100

10% STUDENT DISCOUNT!
But you gotta ask for it and show us your MTU ID—because we won't remember. Discount only on pizza and no extra discount on specials or with a coupon. And no discounts if your piss is off!

... Olym-pucks from front in Hockey because, let's face it, it's Canada. I was surprised until I saw the video of three Canadian players, who seem like they are looking right at each other, collide on the ice. At that point, I was much less surprised (and a BIG fuck you to Sidney "Poster boy" Crosby).

#2 Unfairness/Weather. The weather at the games has been a HUGE annoyance for me as a viewer. It seems that the weather in Vancouver has been doing whatever the hell it could to make sure that the first 10 people in any outdoor event got the best of everything, then to pour and dump on every other competitor afterwards. Watching the Men's Biathlon, it started out as a normal cloudy day. Then about 10-15 competitors in, it started to dump snow on top of the other competitors, which inhibited visibility in the shooting, and caused the snow to be slower. Seriously, it was almost a 1-2 second gap between when it was clear and when the snow started. Same with the Snowboard cross and other such events, as after the first couple of competitors, the hill had so many ruts that in every 4-man run at the end, someone would wipe out on one of them.

#1 Stephen Colbert. Mr. Colbert would've been a GREAT boon to the way I felt about the Olympics indeed, had I ever tuned in whenever he was on. I still don't believe he was ever on, but people keep telling me he was. There is still some time left right? Who knows, maybe I'll get to see that hot slab of man, accepting the Gold medal in being fucking amazing. 🐮

YOUR AD GOES HERE. SERIOUSLY. THE DAILY BULL HAS AMAZING ADVERTISING RATES - SO AMAZING THAT YOU'LL HAVE TO TASTE THEM TO BELIEVE THEM. MMM! SAVINGS! SHOUT TO BULL@MTU.EDU FOR THE FULL MENU!

FLAP JACKS IN AN APPLE ORCHARD

The Daily Bull has a new website! Archives, Staff bios, and extras galore Check it out at thebull.students.mtu.edu

Daily Bull

EDITOR IN CHIEF & BOSS MAN C-C-C-COMP EDITOR
Nathan "Invincible" Miller Liz Fujita

FACULTY ADVISOR QUOTH THE WEBSITE
David BRING DA NOISE Olson 404

Nathan "Invincible" Miller, Liz Fujita, Jeremy "Mr. Sunshine" Loucks, Simon Mused, John Pastore, Matt Villa, Mary Kennedy, Ruben Garcia, Kiri Kennedy, Mike Lennon, Benjamin Loucks, Tyler Botbyl, Lauren Allen, Jon "Big-O" Mahan, Alec Hamer, Phil Pombor, Stephen Whittaker, Sam Schall, Sandra Custer, Frank McGuire, Mike Gardwell, Bryne Judy, and NOT SIDNEY CROSBY. EW.

©2010 by the Daily Bull, a non-profit organization. All rights reserved. Articles may be freely distributed electronically or on late night talk shows provided credit is given, and that this notice is included. The Daily Bull reserves the right to refuse any advertisements or guest articles without reason. All opinionated letters sent to the editor (on paper or to bull@mtu.edu) will be treated as material to be published unless expressly stated otherwise by the sender. Original works printed in the Daily Bull remain the property of the creator; however, the Daily Bull reserves the right to reprint any submissions in future issues unless specifically asked not to do so by the creator. If you keep reading this small text, an electric eel will do the electric slide.

The Daily Bull would like to thank the Daily Bull for buying our own damn printer that this publication is printed on. We would also like to thank the Student Activity Fee for helping to pay for our paper and toner costs.

Advertising inquiries, questions & comments should be directed to bull@mtu.edu

Nudists!?

By Liz Fujita ~ Daily Bull
with lukewarm apologies to Owl City

You'd want to gouge out your eyes
If people unzipped their flies
And dropped their pants as you walked the street.

Cos they'd show their buttocks bare
And scare children everywhere.
You're not a perv
But you would just stand and stare...

CHORUS:
They'd like to make us all be free
To Planet Earth's harsh weather.
It's safe to say that they'd rather be
Undressed when they wear clothes,
'Cause "nudity is everybody's dream."

'Cause they'd show a thousand butts
Of ten thousand stripper sluts,
And their friends go crazy with no pants.

An old guy pulled down his shorts -
A woman called in reports
The shopping mall is just filling with these sorts.

[CHORUS]
Pull your pants up and hide the crack
Please get me away from here
Just go buy a belt or a fanny pack!
Please get me away from here
Why must I go on with viewing ass
Please get me away from here
When I'm far too modest to be this crass?

To ten million unzipped flies
I'm weird 'cause my pants stay tied.
I got creepy vibes when I ditched my trousers

But they know where my butt's stored,
If my cheeks get chafed and sore.
'Cause they made a list and
They'll pants me if they're bored.

[CHORUS x2]
They'd like to make us all be free
To Planet Earth's cold weather.
It's safe to say that they'd rather be
Undressed when they wear clothes,
Because their jeans are splitting at the seams...

... OW MY ASS from front

person sitting would have no choice but to sit with perfect posture the whole time. This wouldn't be an issue if I wasn't confined to sitting for two hours being lectured about the grand importance of Iron for two hours.

They also flex more than any chair of that design should. I could understand a little give for comfort, but when I can do an ab-lounge workout in class I think we have a problem. Also, what's with the ease with which they flex? You would think that a tech school would have the intelligence to not pay what I can only assume to be large sums of money for chairs that don't push back. I think it would be lovely to have a seat that provides support while allowing me to lean back just a little, but no. If I so much as even think about pushing my back against the chair I am already half-way into the person's lap behind me.

Second, the back of the chair is short. Now this wouldn't be a problem if I were say... short. But unfortunately, I am not. I am an above average height with an above average sense of pain brought about by the slouching needed to comfortably lean back in my seat. When I slouch my knees often hit the person's back in front of me. This causes the person in front of me to turn around and give me "the look." You know the look you get from talking too much during a movie or from rooting for the wrong team during a football game. No words are ever exchanged, but you know that person is mad. I don't know about you, but I prefer not to be on the receiving end of "the look." 🐮

Somehow, the other chair options considered for Dow 641 just didn't make the cut... no idea why, though. Sigh - oh the possibilities.

