I have it dudes! Aliens are not only REAL, but they have been HERE before. By here I do not mean Houghton MI, (although there is some evidence that I could pull form...hmm, interesting) but rather, I mean here as in planet Earth. Those of you who know me (you poor bastards) are most likely aware that the GREATEST television show created on earth is Stargate SG-1. They have multiple examples of aliens being here on Earth, which are of course correct. If you do not agree you are either a.) Unaware that such a epic show exists b.) aware but, as Mr. Oliver said you are "Wary of Canadians" and could not watch it based on this, or c.) you are 100% brain dead and must see the nearest doctor and your earliest opportunity.

While SG-1 does a near perfect job of presenting

To ALL OUR LOYAL READERS, I HAVE A REQUEST - please, keep me off of death row. Don't worry, I don't exactly intend to get stuck there. However, if I'm ever in a situation where it looks like I'm going to be locked away in the slammer for a while before I meet an untimely end, consider helping me out. Why? Because I don't want the burden of having to choose a last meal. I mean, I don't want to die, either, but that's a given in this hypothetical.

Let's be honest, here. College students like food. We love food. It's yummy. Over the years, we've all racked up some favorites, whether they be dishes at a restaurant or your grandma's top-secret family recipe that she will never reveal. Just imagine how difficult it would be to have the choice of anything at all to be your last taste on earth! Aah! Maybe for some of you it's easy. Me? I would probably be horribly torn between the following:

Chicken Fajitas. If cheese weren't so deliciously fattening, I would eat these all the time, regardless of whether I got incarcerated or not. The spicy salsa! The cool sour cream! The cheesy goodness! The green peppers! Jeez, if I keep talking, I'm going to end up jumping the Mexican border tomorrow.

Brownie Ice Cream Sundae. If I'm going to die, who cares if I fall into a sugar coma? This combines three of the things I love most in the foody universe - chocolate, ice cream, and sprinkles. I can almost feel my face contorting in a Homer Simpson manner... mm.... broowwnniiiee.

Honey Bunches of Oats. Don't even try to deny it - you know Honey Bunches of Oats is the best cereal ever created. I would just get a huge bowl and revel in their sweet, crunchy, filling perfection, complete with frosty, cold milk. But I would double my death sentence and eviscerate the prison staff if they gave me Just Bunches. Ugh. Those are pretty sickening, let me tell you.

Steak, medium-well. It's steak.

Clam chowder. Even people who don't love seafood seem to like clam chowder. I could eat it all day long, if it weren't for the fact that I need green vegetables and various other food pyramid categories. Couldn't the world's dieticians put chowder at the top of the list? Please?

Japanese food.

I don't know if I'd even be able to be picky. Sushi sounds good. Tempura sounds good. Rice. Miso. Noodle soup. Little cakes. Hell, even Pocky Sticks would be fulfilling! It's been a while since I last went to Japan (plus there are only a handful of good my case, I choose something much 'closer' to home. I chose you, platypus!

That's right, platypus! One of the most whacked out animals known to, well, just about anyone. In order to understand just how whacked out this creature creation is it must be described. A platypus is basically a beaver, a duck, a chicken, and a scorpion combined into one epic creature of awesomeness. In order to understand just how amazing this creature is, I have included a picture of one for your viewing pleasure!

I mean come on! Look at the thing! It has a bill, but it has fur! Then you get to the back end and there are 3 cm long spikes on its feet that hold venom (at least on the males)! What kind of creature is this? Some people have claimed it is related to reptiles and shows a link between dinosaurs and mammals, but I disagree. This creature is proof that aliens have come to this world.

They came down in their little ships and landed in Australia and said, "Hmm, how do we fuck with humans this time?" After much debate they settled on an animal. Luckily for us lowly humans, they only messed with one animal (or did they?) instead of making Australia one large alien testing ground for how to exterminate humans... or some other horrible concoction of horribleness. Either way, their conversation must have been something along the lines of:

Alien 1: Okay so we have agreed to make one messed up animal to leave the inhabitants of this land! What should we do?

Alien 2: We should use a beaver!

Alien 1: Hmm... OK, but those teeth things creep me out. We should do something about that.

Alien 3: I know I know I know I know! Lets put a duck's bill on it!

Alien 1: Now you're thinking!

Alien 4: What about bull horns?

Aliens 1,2,3: SHUT UP XHIAPS!

Xhiaps: But the horns are so shiny! Aw.

Alien 1: OK, we have a beaver and a duck. What else?

Alien 2: I like rooster's spurs. We should put spurs on the back legs of this thing!

Alien 1: OK, a little weird, but I like it!

Xhiaps: POSION!!! LETS MAKE IT POSIONOUS!

All: Really?! Really?

Xhiaps: If we don't put poison on this creature I will blow up the ship!

Alien 1: Fine, it can have poison, but only on the males.

Xhiaps: Really?! Yay!

Alien 1: (mutters something about Mars and maroons)

Alien 3: OK, so it has rooster spurs, a duck bill, and a beaver body. This thing should totally lay eggs!

Alien 1 & 2: YES! THAT IS PREFECT!

Alien 1: OK! Fire up the combobalatuor!

All: YAY!!

And thus, the platypus was created and left for humans to find. The actual discovery of the platypus confirms that there were in fact aliens on earth and they have left many markers for us to find. ☺
