Wile E. Coyote – the Truth

By Liz Fujita ~ Daily Bull

It began with a child's dream – a dream to become the greatest roadrunner chaser of all time. Wile vowed to be different from other coyotes, to go to college – he applied to the prestigious Generally Flightless Bird Hunting Academy in Albuquerque. When he began there, he decided to pursue a degree in mechanical engineering in hopes of building the perfect roadrunner trap. After the first few years proved horrifically difficult, he changed majors to chemical engineering. Upon failing orgo II lab four times, Wile made an attempt at rocketry and propulsive sciences. To pay for school, he worked part-time as a refrigerator repair man and in a factory for unusually large rubber bands.

When six years had passed and he had nothing to show for his work but an Associate's in Discombobulating Things and Recombobulating

Mama's Boys moving in with their father.

By Kyle Roe ~ Daily Bull

Mama's Boys moving in with their father. "She could not find satisfaction anywhere else, so she turned to her boys, many of which accepted it." The rumor that has been spreading around, lighting up the headlines, has finally been confirmed as fact. The Mama of Mama's Boys has been taken to court for multiple offenses of child molestation. Mama will be charged with over twenty acts of maternal incest, including two documented cases of group molestation where she took over five of her eldest boys into her room for quote "an introduction to the bat cave."

Our nameless source reported that Mama had been doing this for years now. Her husband had divorced her claiming that she was "too attached to the boys" and "cared more about her 20 plus sons than her own husband"; and without her husband she has lived a lonely life driven to serve her boys. Being divorced for seven years had taken a toll on her sexual life. Every attempt to date proved futile, as no man wanted to be near a 50 year old mother of 40 college age boys. "Eventually she grew more and more interested in us boys," stated one of the freshman boys during a hearing, "most of us freshman were shocked by how she treated us, and were even more shocked by how the older guys of the hall took it so well."

Mama's boys protesting the court order that they move in with their father.

The Steaming Pile?

Straight From You-Know-Where!
By Bill Melcher.

Sometime last week (Wednesday at approximately-exactly 9:15pm), the new Houghton Demilitarized Zone was shaken (not stirred) by what some thought to be an earthquake. Silly Houghton, fault lines are for Californians! Really though, the shaking felt campus-wide was merely the creation of the most excessive Daily Bull pile within recent memory.

"At first, it started off like every other pile." Stephen Whittaker mumbled, still gripping his battered keyboard. "But then ... they just kept coming." A hollow, distant look consumed his face and it appeared he was trying to grasp a concept beyond worldly understanding. Then the Doctor told us to get out.

The pile is thought to have originated from a condition called 'way-too-much-call-of-duty'. With the first round of exams coming up, what will the humanities students ever do without all of their shiny new Macs? (Fumble around on XP like the rest of us who actually bring money to the school after we graduate?)

The disturbance was called in by ice statue workers when an unknown female yelled "TAKE IT OUT OF YOUR PANTS AND GIVE IT TO ME NOW!", soon after which a crew of about 20 people scattered from the building. When firefighters entered, the scene was unbelievable. Empty pizza boxes strewn about the table-tops, the hot air of human presence still lingering... but the most shocking part was the sheer scale of the pile we created for this week.

Enjoy! PILE IS ON THE BACK.

counselors they could find, hoping to "heal the youthful children's minds". However many of the Mama's Boys have complained that there had been nothing wrong. They were really stressed out over losing Mama, because without her they were likely to never see a woman naked. "Most of us are past the legal age, as a Senior at Michigan Tech I have the right to have heated, crazy, intimate, dry love with my Mama." argued one of Mama's defendants, "Yes, when she had us dance and sing Lady Gaga songs while wearing woman's lingerie we were a little disturbed, but it was all for the love of our mother. And love her we did, biweekly."

Currently the Mama's Boys have been court ordered to live with their father. Currently debate exists over whether the Hall's name should be changed to Father's Boys or not. Meanwhile, investigation has been under way regarding the hall "Raptor", and the alleged cases of dinophilia.

Them to Other Things, Wile resigned from school. A few years after retiring, he saw on the news a striking headline: ROAD RUNNER BUSTED FOR STEROID USE. That's when it occurred to him. All those piles of birdseed he had been laying out! All those iron pellets! All those infused chemicals he had hoped would poison the bird! They had been making him FASTER! But here roadrunner was, locked behind bars for injecting illicit substances... he had done it. Wile E. Coyote caught the roadrunner completely by accident. Unfortunately, all of this happened after the death of Saturday morning cartoons, so no one ever knew about it.
