A satirist is a man who discovers unpleasant things about himself and then says them about other people.

A horrific accident occurred this afternoon around 4:30 at Houghton Downs. As Hoof Hearted rounded the turn on the final leg of a 64-lap race, he was bumped in the rear by Always Tired and immediately burst into flames, according to witnesses who remained at the event. It was the largest barbecue Houghton has seen since the early 40s, when Dim Wit I Am stopped cold while galloping past the checkered flag to smell a daisy, resulting in a 10-horse pileup.

Twins Jeremy and Benji Whiffer, both 7 1/2 years old and visiting from the Bay City area, were truly saddened by the tragedy and spoke on behalf of the masses. "Me and Benji, we were gonna win $7.30, cause we had Hoofy to place and he was doin' real good until he 'sploded, damn him", said Jeremy, tossing his betting slip to the ground in dis-

Things Fat People Shouldn't Do

Brought to you by Nathan "Invincible" Miller

The title says it all folks. Need I say more? too wide to fit between gridlocked cars? Give it up.

DISCLAIMER: If you're fat and are offended, remember - you could body slam me and I'd be crushed into little pieces. And as per Daily Bull policy (which I am versed in very thoroughly), this, and most everything else we say, should not be taken seriously.

RIDE (SPORT) MOTORCYCLES.

I know that every guy wants to zip around at a bazillion miles per hour on their motorcycles with their girlfriend in tow, but you don't look cool when you weigh twice as much as the machine you're riding. Nobody wants to see you in your skintight leather or crash suit that form fits to every fat roll. Plus, how do you think you can zoom through traffic snarls if you're Mmm... now imagine this riding a Kawasaki Sport Bike. OH YEAH.

RIDE MOPEDS.

Even worse than motorcycles. I can just imagine the tiny 100cc engines whining, "kill me now."

CLIMB TREES.

Haven't you heard of deforestation? In industrialized countries, it's largely caused by overweight people trying to climb trees. Sure, there are bird's nests and nice views way up there, but did it ever occur to you that trees have feelings too? Just imagine if an elephant tried to climb on you.

ROB BANKS. There's nothing more depressing than watching a portly fellow gallop at 4 mph. If I were in the middle Apparently there is someone behind me who wants me to 'take it out of my pants and give it to them now'. HELP ME.

just. A few others, however, were not as cheery. "The wife and I, we like to come to the track each Friday night to relax, and do a little smooching and other stuff, if you know what I mean," said Simon _____, who was unwilling to provide his last name*. "Clearly this put a damper on our reading time".

Give me tasty loins you awful beast

Federal horse explosion experts were soon on the scene, picking through the dead rotting carcass that remained after most of the crowd quickly devoured the meatiest portions of Hoofy and left for the annual midget broom ball tournament played with extra small brooms.

It is believed that Hoofy's jockey (Little O'Whittaker) and Always Tired's jockey (Felipe Alec) exchanged words prior to the race, and the bad blood between these two little jockeys may have had something to do with the horse fireball that was felt as far away as Marquette.

In other news, the MTU tiddlywinks team trounced Northern's varsity team 12-1, lead by the excellent squopping of Olivia the Squopper. The best of seven series is now tied at 2.

of a bank job, the last thing I'd want is a fatty holding me up as we're escaping with the loot. Not to mention the fact that sneaking in through a tunnel would require a lot more work, since it'd have to be so much bigger.

WORK ON SUBMARINES.

As if dealing with being under the ocean for months on end weren't hard enough, the last thing a submarine crew needs is somebody who will eat their food faster. Talk about inconsiderate. On top of that, how do you expect to move around? The doors in those tin cans are slimmer than yo' mama.

practically play it from a wheelchair. But really, how many obese people do you see playing basketball, hockey, soccer, diving, tennis, high jumping, boxing, gymnastics, bobsledding, figure skating, fencing, Formula 1 racing, Red Bull Crashed Ice, korfbal, or competitive eating? That's right, even skinny people win at eating.

CROWDSURF/MOSH PITS. Firstly, it's highly unlikely anyone will want to pick you up and carry you around for very long, so crowd surfing is basically out by default. The only thing you have going for you is that with your larger surface area, more people's hands can support you as you threaten to crush them like an asteroid did to the dinosaurs. And mosh pits? Even drug-addled punks know when something is a bad idea. Have mercy.

BODY SLAM NATHAN INVINCIBLE. That would be mean. Besides, if you did obliterate me, who would help you get up? I don't think Life Alert will save you if you're covered in my blood and guts and possibly fecal matter.
