It is a curious thing... that every creed promises a paradise which will be absolutely uninhabitable for anyone of civilized taste.

Wait what? The year is almost over?

By Alec Hamer
~ Daily Bull ~

Where the fuck did the time go? I have been here at this school for 8 months but it only feels like it has been 3 weeks. This odd difference in time has led me to wonder if there is some kind of time funnel out there sucking everyone's time into some kind of time reservoir somewhere in northern Kentucky, but for now that is just a theory. What we do know (from various interviews) is that this is not a sensation that I alone am feeling. Apparently nearly everybody gets this sensation and the older you get, the worse it gets. So what is there to do?

You could first try to take Time-Slowdown© a pharmaceutical product designed to help slow down time. Unfortunately, as with nearly any pharmaceutical product, there are usually side effects including but not limited

France attacks US plane on Runway!

By 'Jean Bassier' ~ Daily Bull French Relations Correspondant

NEW YORK, NEW YORK- At New York's John F. Kennedy Airport, there has been an attack by the French on American Soil.

The incident took place at the airport in which an Air-France Airbus clipped a small commuter plane on the runway. The incident has been called an attack on US National security and it's ability to defend itself by some.

A government-blurred video of the incident as it happened. Shown: The tail of the Airbus, and the small jet being tossed.

"If we cannot defend our commuter planes that are taxiing on the runways of our airports, then how can we protect them on the runways of far away places like the Bahamas or Mexico. Good lord! This is clearly an attack at our supremacy in making aircraft!" said one unnamed individual. The man was on the small commuter aircraft that was hit by the airbus. The vehicle was turned violently in it's place as sparks flew from the coliding wing joints. The pilots have already been detained by authorities for questioning.

Luckily for everyone involved, the French managed to pull off the attack in much the same fashion as any other attack they've pulled off: Piti-fully, ineptly and without anyone harmed. All persons on the aircraft are fine, and were reboarded onto planes at the airport while both aircraft go through a rigorous inspection.

President Obama has already begun downplaying the incident.

"Look, what we have here, is a failure to communicate. Clearly, they were

Fateful Velociraptor Awareness Day Massacre in Wads

By Liz Fujita ~ Daily Bull

Reports are still being gathered from the Houghton police department, but there have been rumors that late last night a group of at least 45 students was brutally devoured in the worst velociraptor attack since 1453. A memorial session is to be held at the end of the week, when more details are released.

The attack started around 5:30 pm, when the raptors were attracted to Wadsworth Hall due to the strong smell of food and mass congregations of people. Having waited outside the front door for some unwitting soul to push the handicap button, they were soon inside, up the short stairs, and ransacking the dining hall. One first-year student managed to escape by hiding underneath a table, and told the Bull, "They were so fast, like huge, hungry Porches or something!"

Raptors managed to clear out everything in the food court, making sort work of burgers, meaty lasagna, all desserts, and the pizza station. Relatively unharmed was the salad bar, from which only the ham cubes were missing. The raptors, being fairly polite for a devourous monster, did take care to put all their trays and plates in the dish station before moving on to their final course: man meat.

An investigative journalist from the Mining Gazette described the scene as "a mangled mess of chairs, blood, and visceral organs. All the tables were overturned in odd patterns - we think that the raptors may have been strategizing." This is in keeping with much past literature; raptors prefer to chase their quarry using triangular attack patterns. Noted third year math major Kaylee Walsh, "I think this will make a really interesting senior research project next year. I want to examine the shape of the raptors' attack patterns. Are they equilateral?"

One student's hand reanimated long enough to twitch shut around a cell phone and dial 9-1-1. Seeing what was happening, a nearby raptor picked up the hand and garnished his delicious liver-and-lungs casserole with it. "RAWRRRRRAAAHHHHH!" it allegedly screamed. Language experts in the Humanities department explain that it translates to, "PARSLEY FOR DINOSAURS!"

After their kingly feast drew to a close, the raptors broke out of Wads through the window, stomped on the rapidly-approaching police squadrons, and vanished off down US-41. Houghton police advise that anyone in the Marquette area should be on high alert today for stray raptors.

The Wads dining hall will be closed temporarily as biohazard containment team sworks to mop up the blood, scrape ear-bones off tables, and collect raptor spit for DNA analysis. DHH and McNair remain open. ☹ given bad orders, and the two planes collided, at the clear fault of the smaller American plane. The larger airbus couldn't have hoped to turn fast enough. That's just the facts. Now we just have to HOPE there there is some CHANGE in the industry as to avert these kind of disasters in the future."

But with approval ratings in the tank, people aren't having it. With the attack by BP on the gulf last year that has stripped the gulf of it's lifeblood of fishing, the general US population is under the beleif that the Europeans are beginning to attack our ability to produce on the marketplace competetively.

"Next thing you know, those germans will be attacking our beer breweries in Montana and the Keweenaw, and who knows where the Dutch will attack. Our drug cartels? But this is clearly an assault on national security," said another man. The reprecussions of the attack are yet to be seen fully.

In the meantime, the French have also downplayed the incident.

"We, the French, are not a warlike people. Lord knows that it's been shown just how un warlike we as a people are, and that alone should be enough to rid us of such heinous charges. We did not intend for this to happen, nor will we ever do so. We find it ridicoulous what you're insinuating with the idea that tshi is an attack!

More as this develops. ☹

Cost of a Degree

By Mary Kennedy ~ Daily Bull

As my undergraduate career comes to a close, I have decided to take a look back at how much of my life has been spent on college:

- Time in Class: 2,406 hours
- Time in Class Spent Sleeping: 301 hours
- Time in Class Spent Zoning Out: 900 hours
- Time in Class Trying Not to Blow Things Up: 101 hours
- Time Spent Getting to Class: 238 hours
- Time Spent Trying to Wake Up For Class: 600 hours
- Time Spent Studying for Class: 960 hours
- Time Spent "Recovering" from Studying for Class: 360 hours
- Cost of Textbooks: $5600
- Cost of Notebooks: $120
- Cost of Other School Supplies: $50
- Cost of Tuition: $(#$$@#$$@#%)*

All in All, college has cost me: $5770 + (#$$@#$$@#%) dollars and 4564 hours of my life. All you first years out there, yes, these numbers are accurate. Have fun.

*Cost of tuition has been censored for those of you weak of heart. ☹
