

DAILY BULL

The Daily Bull is probably not suitable for those under age 18 and should not be taken seriously... like class on Friday!

Man Breaks Felix's Record

Jon "Big O" Mahan ~ Daily Bull

A new dare devil sought to break Felix's record of the farthest free fall. It was no easy task, but he found a way to make it happen. After months of planning, testing, math, and all sorts of shenanigans (including more than one or four drunken midget weasel strip-per parties), the Full Throttle Eclipse mission took place.

In a similar manner to Felix, the mission took off into space, taking many minutes to reach its final height. The balloon ascended high into the stratosphere, flying higher and higher every second. Eventually the balloon reached an amazing 30000 km. But this wasn't enough. The capsule that the dare devil took was also equipped with rockets, and so it launched, higher and higher into the sky. At 100 km into the sky, the daredevil was inside of a northern lights effect. As he stared down, the daunting jump teased him

Things I Don't Miss About Being A Student

By Nathan "Invincible Miller ~ Still Sort of One of Us

Don't let my Daily Bull writing and youthful appearance deceive you into thinking I'm still a student - I graduated long ago, and now I'm (temporarily) working at the Keewenaw Land Trust being a contributing member of society. As Alice Cooper once said, "no more school for me, yippee ki-yay university!" It really is that good. The following are just a few of the perks of not being a student anymore.

NO MORE HOMEWORK. Definitely the best perk ever of having a regular person job. Technically I'm salaried, but my funding doesn't cover me up to full time. So even when I have to work extra, it's not like I have to work much past when I'd go home anyway. That means it's home by 5 or so everyday, after which I'm FREE! Hakuna Matata, baby.

NO CATTLE HERDING TO CLASS. It's

so nice not having to walk en masse to class along with everyone else all at the Good luck avoiding #2 and #3. You'll need it.

I haven't sung my ABCs in about 15 years;
I've probably forgotten how.
