Michigan Tech Mad Science: Discovering Your Enemy's Plans Using Roller Blades, Dolphins and the Tango

by Chase Peterson ~ Daily Bull

Everyone needs to start somewhere in the scheme of world domination and for most of us (those of us that didn't inherit their evil empire bent on world domination) that means we all need to start locally and think globally (stick that in your pipe and smoke it, you dirty hippies!).

We are going to look at how to "acquire" the plans of those that have come before us in the realm of evil geniuses with a domination kink (break out the leather, ball gags and whips), using these totally obtainable items: roller blades, dolphins and the tango. You may be asking yourself, "where is he

by Alec Hamer ~ Daily Bull

Pabst Brewing Company located in Milwaukee, Wisconsin just won a Blue Ribbon for the category of Cheap-Ass Beer in Munich, Germany.

Bier Wettbewerb (Beer Competition), as the annual contest is known, has had over 34 attendees. That's a lot of beer. "Yeah we usually kill the equivalent of two pony kegs each year" reports the event's head beer-buyer. "I know that sounds like a lot but remember- we're talking two days here". There are many categoriesries ranging from Teuer-Arsch Bier (Expensive-Ass Beer) to Chep-Arsch Bier (Cheap-Ass Beer). This year the lucky winner in the Chep-Arsch Bier category is Pabst Blue Ribbon.

Pabst Brewing Company is not usually concerned with marketing such awards but the CEO offered this statement in a press release yesterday: "This marks 168 years of Brewing Excellence™ for the Pabst Brewing Company" and "I can't wait for those fuckers at Miller Fill the grid with the digits 1-8 so as not to repeat a digit in any row or column so the digits within each heavily outlined box or boxes (cage) will produce the target number shown in that cage by using the operation (addition, subtraction, multiplication, or division) shown by the symbol after the numeral. For example, the notation 6+ means that the numerals in the cage should add up to 6 and the notation 48x means that by multiplying the numbers in the cage you will get 48.

getting all these random items?” Does he have divine powers like Tom Cruise in that one movie where he had to reverse engineer that thing that made him a super human using a paper clip, penny and stick of gum? Well, my friends, the answer is none of your damn business! The first thing that we need to do is to work with the dolphins to create tango music that is ultra hypnotic (like The Master from Doctor Who, greatest villain of all time) and also create our own army of loyal henchmen. Once we have taught the dolphins to play the sweet, sweet music of indentured servitude, we are then ready to scope out our enemy’s base of operation.

Once we have found where they are hiding their secret volcano lair (it’s always a volcano) we can then start making plans to create a ‘rent-by-the-hour’ roller blade stand. Naturally we will get some business from the opposing evil organization. When these unsuspecting agents of not-our-flavor-of-evil come to rent the skates to impress a girl, or guy, or whatever they are into, we will make sure that they get the special rocket skates that will take them to our warehouse that we have setup on the other side of the island. There they will be confronted with a huge tank of dolphins that will start singing the most beautiful and hypnotic tango music that they will be unable to resist, and begin dancing. After they start dancing, we know we have them in our clutches and will easily be able to turn them to our cause.

After we have captured one of these hapless drones we will implant them with many, many commands that will subvert the rest of the opposing organization (formal Monday, for starters, and switching all the coffee to decaf), bending them to our will and extracting all the information we need (cue evil laugh.) Once we have a good number of them under our control, not only will we have their plans for world domination, we will also have their resources as well. Two birds with one dance. Muahahahaha. ☺

Brewing Company to get a load of this.” All-in-all it sounded like the CEO was pleased with herself.

Consumers were not as pleased. One Pew Research Poll found that 76% of Americans found the award “Compulsive and Degrading-- I feel like a slug”. With so much disapproval from such news outlets as Fox News it is clear something needs to be done. It is said that the Bier Wettbewerb (Beer Competition) board of directors is formulating a formal apology to America but no official press release has been made. “I don’t know... They’re just a bunch of fuckers” claimed one central Wisconsin resident, Ken Mines. “I mean the way they insulted the Beer that I love... That I live. How dare they. I will drive my F-250 all the way to Germany if I have to. I swear on my sweet Grandpa Billy the IV”. Ken Mines hasn’t been heard from since.

Last night an employee of Pabst Brewing Company, Henry Walker, was caught by undercover F.B.I. special investigators trying to sell the top secret Pabst Blue Ribbon formula. The formula is only fully known by one man who is currently hitchhiking his way across Southeast Asia. In order to steal the formula, Henry had to mine through 350 ft of bedrock to reach buried formula. 30 years ago, a special safe was made in London, England 400 ft below street level. Originally the safe held the Arc of the Covenant but eventually it fell into ownership of Pabst Brewing Company. Now, the company uses the safe to hold its super-secret recipe. Henry planned to start in London’s subway system, The Tube, and work his way down to the safe. He made it over 200 ft before being discovered.

While all this exciting news is happening, the price of Pabst Blue Ribbon has gone up. “We just had to raise prices to keep from running out right away,” reported the owner of Econo Foods. You can currently only find Pabst Blue Ribbon at Econo Foods for $7 per 12 fl oz can. ☺
