A Day in My Life as a Super Senior

by Cameron Long ~ Daily Bull

0800 to 0830: Wake to series of well-intentioned alarms

0831: Ignore alarms, go back to sleep

0840: Bolt upright, realizing I have class in 50 minutes

0842: Jump in shower

0842:02: Jump out of still-cold shower

0850: Finish shower, throw on whatever clothes are closest at hand

0900: Consider warming up and scraping car

0901 to 0910: Browse Imgur, Youtube

0914: Fail to eat breakfast

0915: Swear like a sailor while scraping ice off car

0920: Arrive at Lot 9. Lot is at half capacity, yet somehow has no spaces

0930: Arrive at Lot 26

0935: Make it down the hill just as class is starting in Fisher 328

Dinoparade

by Chase Peterson ~ Daily Bull

The process of world domination is usually a slow one, but that doesn't mean it needs to be painful. There is no reason that we can't use our super science to make life easier (well, make my life easier. The rest of the populous can do something with a bone and a deranged walrus). Depending on your particular flavor of belief system you may or may not believe that a peculiar tradesman rode a velociraptor while telling people how nice it would be to stop being bastards to everyone and just love each other. Well, luckily (or unluckily) for us this specific individual was promptly nailed to a bunch four by four posts.

With the tree-hugger safely communing with his kindred spirits we can turn our attention to his trusty steed, the all mighty velociraptor. Sadly there are no more of these awe inspiring creatures in the world, normally this would be a problem, but then again, we have never been normal now have we? The mere fact that you haven't thrown the paper away means you're like me (one of us, one of us!). and want to harness the power of the dinosaur and incorporate it into your plans for world domination.

In order to get this done we will need a large supply of skateboards, very specific web pages and bullhorns. I leave it up to you as to how you acquire the above items (honestly, I'll tell you how to accomplish the finer points, but procurement is up to you. There will be no hand holding here). So once you get everything from the list mentioned above and moved all the supplies to your secret base we can begin recreating/resurrecting/reanimating, whatever you want to call it.

Friendship...is not something you learn in school. But if you haven't learned the meaning of friendship, you really haven't learned anything. -- Muhammad Ali

The first thing we need to do is grab the bullhorns and a couple minions with intimidating voices and head to the biology and bio-engineering departments and start bullying the grad and PhD students. Like all engineering and science students they are easily intimidated by loud noises, and we should have no problem rounding them up and making them join the "volunteer" research team.

Once we have our new "volunteer" research team, we send them out to the internets to track down the proper DNA sequencing for the mighty beasts. We need to send them to the internets (plural) because the information we are looking for is too amazing to be found in just one place or in just one internet.

While the research team is gathering all the information they will need to complete this task we can turn our attention to other matters. While the secret base is fine and dandy we need to keep an eye on the bottom line, specifically the amount of electricity we will need for this (I know, I know, it sucks that we can't just ignore the cost of electricity, not to mention the carbon footprint, but we all need to be green). This is where the skateboards come in, just add a battery pack to each skateboard and as the skateboard is used the battery charges. We take some of our more athletic minions and these skateboards and tell them to go have fun on the half pipe. Viola! Extra power to run the machinery that is needed to resurrect dinosaurs!

Once we have all the pieces in place it's just a matter of time before the researchers complete the DNA sequence and begin to form the protein strains needed to grow our own dino-army using the power supplied by our skateboarding minions. After we form the army of dinosaurs it's just a matter of time before the nations of the world will bow down before our military superiority. 🐲
