What The Cool Kids Are Doing

by Steve Smith ~ Daily Bull

We've all heard about what the cool kids are up to these days. The only way to truly fit in is to do drugs and drink yourself into oblivion (according to people who do not actually know how to make real friends)! But in this day and age, Old Milwaukee and pot just don't cut it. In order to really ride with the "in crowd", you're gonna have to be a little more hardcore than that. Let's take a look into some of the new substance abuse trends that are (unfortunately) seeping their toxicity into our student population.

The Physics Drinking Game! Underage drinking is really stupid and can get you into a lot of trouble. Being on campus while you are intoxicated is even more risky. But actually drinking during lecture? Pure insanity. For those interested for purely scientific reasons, here are the rules:

1. If there is a demo, drink.
2. If the demo gets screwed up by the useless assistants, drink double.
3. If you see someone on Facebook in class, drink.
4. If you see someone playing LoL during class, take a shot
5. If you get an iClicker question wrong,

WMTU NEEDS YOU

by Nathan "Invincible" Miller ~ Daily Bull Immortal

WMTU DJ SIGNUPS: Wednesday and Thursday
7-9 PM, Fisher 139. Do or die!

WMTU, which stands for Double-you Em Tee You, is on the prowl for prospective disc jockeys to hop on the mic and be the next Casey Kasem. You remember Casey Kasem, right? He may be ancient, but at least he had the good sense to retire at some point in his life, unlike his TV counterpart Regis Philbin. That guy is still on TV at 82!

Even if all you know is Ryan Seacrest as far as hit music is concerned, you can be a DJ for WMTU. We don't discriminate based on your musical tastes. You could honestly play video game music for your entire show and have more listeners than someone who has faithfully been DJing for 7 years and has mastered an entire sub-genre of electronic music... Or you could play just what you want, regardless of what anyone else wants to hear. Either way,

When we honestly ask ourselves which person in our lives means the most to us, we often find that it is those who, instead of giving much advice, solutions, or cures, have chosen rather to share our pains and touch our wounds with a gentle and tender hand. The friend who can be silent with us in a moment of despair or confusion, who can stay with us in an hour of grief and bereavement, who can tolerate not knowing, not curing, not healing, and face with us the reality of our powerlessness, that is a friend who cares.

Quarter Roofie Night! Normally, when people think of roofies, they associate it with rape. Rape is bad. Therefore, roofies must be bad, right? Wrong! The current fad of “quarter roofie night” is exactly what it sounds like. Students who just can’t get enough of harming their brain chop a roofie tablet into four pieces and lock themselves in a room with their friends. They then set up a camera to capture the antics of the night and proceed to “trip balls.” This is basically the extreme version of the Nyquil challenge, where you drink a double dose of Nyquil and then see who can stay awake the longest. Both of these activities are bad for you and are usually accompanied by embarrassment and regret the next morning.

Pass that Syzzurp, Homie! Syzzurp, syrup, and crunk juice are the common slang for a particular drank that you probably shouldn’t be sippin’ on. It involves making a mixed drink with one of the primary ingredients being cough syrup, preferably prescription strength for extra crunkness. The codeine in cough syrup is a narcotic, and if you drink enough Robitussin, you will be “Robo-tripping.” Some might see this as an opportunity to do something to feel like they are on drugs while not being illegal. That’s the dream, isn’t it?! What they don’t realize is that not only is the codeine addictive, but everyone who finds out that you drink cough syrup will know that you are super ghetto. Let the judgment ensue.

In conclusion, drugs and drinking are bad, but they happen all of the time. We at the Bull recommend staying away from that whole scene, but if you really feel the need to get wild, just don’t be that one kid who pukes in Fisher 135 because there were three demos today and he can’t handle his liquor. 🙄 from Import on front

you’ll have one of two WMTU lifetime listeners tuning in - the Old Geezer and Crystal, every DJ’s “favorite” caller.

So if you love to listen to crazy music, don’t care what other people think of your taste, and love Pink Floyd more than anything else in the world, WMTU is the place for you. You don’t actually have to love Pink Floyd to death, but I should tell you that we have a cabinet with the Dark Side of the Moon artwork painted on it. And... an office with giraffe print carpet and purple walls. “Drool.” 🙄
