

Bull still seeking new recruits, resorting to miserable and pathetic forms of begging Mind Trekkers to take 150 volunteers to moon for alien outreach TLP, Les Cook get hair cuts

Uncomfortable Couches Plague Campus, Students Suffer

by Kara Bakowski ~ Secretariat

In a slew of “improvements” made to common spaces, nearly all old furniture in the dorms has been replaced. The replacements, however, are some of the most uncomfortable furnishings of the modern era.

“This is a disgrace,” DHH resident Guy Henkel said. “I know the old DHH couches were kind of old and disgusting, but they were the only ones left on campus that were more comfy than the dorm beds. I don’t know where I’m going to nap now.”

Experts agree with the students: in a summer visit to Michigan Tech, professional furniture-tester Theodore Moore has stated “these couches are barely better than wood church pews. It’s like someone threw a few pieces of leather on a pew and called it good.”

Henkel adds, “I don’t give a damn if it looks good or if they’re cheap, having access to comfortable couches is a serious matter. What’s the point in having them if they make your ass feel miserable?”

see Form on back

STUDIO

PIZZAS PIZZA LOVERS LOVE!
Daily Specials at www.thestudiopizza.com
10% Discount for All Students
Downtown Hancock, across from Finlandia

PIZZA

Real Food! Real Spices! Fresh Veggies!
Artisan Crusts! Tons of Toppings!

www.thestudiopizza.com

482-5100

Fall Semester Off to Great Start - Record Low Freshmen Deaths

by Rico Bastian ~ Usurer

After the annual second-week body count on Sunday, Michigan Technological University officials have released their findings for this year, showing the lowest freshman mortality rate since the university’s founding.

“In years past, more than half of all incoming freshmen met with their untimely deaths throughout orientation week, but that number has come down drastically. Last year, only 48% of them lived to the second week, but I’m proud to report that this year, at least 63% of them are still living and breathing.” Dean of Students Bonnie Gorman said.

“And that’s not even counting any of the 12% reported missing that may still be alive,” Gorman added.

Many of the school’s staff have also noticed the greater number of first years throughout campus, all still with a pulse and no blood coming from a mortal wound.

“I think this is gonna be a great year,” Wadsworth Hall residential assistant Timothy Butler said. “Everyone in my hall seems to be getting along really well, I haven’t had to write anyone up yet, and only two of the freshmen in the hall were found drowned in the showers. I got a good feeling about this year.”

Many upperclassmen still enjoy watching the freshmen find their way around campus and recounting their first few weeks of school.

“I remember when I was a freshman. I was so nervous because I had no idea what to expect,” sec-

see Function on back

Two possibilities exist: that we are alone in the universe or that we aren't. Both are equally terrifying -- Arthur C. Clarke.

Sue Doo Koo

	9	4				3		6
8		5	3
1	3		4	7
			6
3		9	2		4	8		7
					5
				2	7		6	8
					8	7		4
2		7				5	9

from Form on front

However, rumor has it that making student asses miserable is the point of the replacements. An inside source says that while comfortable couches were cheaper, it made more financial sense to purchase uncomfortable ones.

"If couches aren't comfortable, students are less likely to use them. This keeps the wear-and-tear to a minimum and means we don't have to replace them as often," the source said. "It also means that the new couches look nicer for longer, and that makes the dorms look better to prospective students."

As a result of the furniture "upgrades", students have turned to Walmart. Walmart staff report that they are currently sold out of even the cheapest futons.

"We've heard the students complaining" sales associate Edward James (E.J.) Victor said. "They say that the 'cheap-ass' futons with thin padding are still more comfortable than what has been put in the dorms." After box fans and Command hooks, futons have become the most frequently sold out item in the store. If Walmart cannot meet demand, students may be forced to step inside Kirkish and be tricked into spending all of their beer and gas money on a couch significantly too big to fit into their tiny dorm rooms.

Housing could not be reached for comment. ☹

A trip to the land of cheap Swedish furniture and horsey filled meatballs just may be in your future. All trips last approximately 3 days longer than planned. Book your tickets today!

from Function on front

ond-year student Cameron Smith said. "I was trying to figure out where all my classes were, making sure I had everything I needed for those classes, all the while learning how to survive in this unforgiving campus as I watched other freshmen meet their demise. I learned that I have to go to the dining hall and eat some food or else I would starve to death, just like my first roommate."

Despite the vast improvement in freshman survival, as of press time, only 9% of incoming transfer students have made it to the second week of classes.

Freshmen Safety Tips

Though many freshmen have survived the first two weeks, they're still not out of danger yet. To better prepare freshmen, we here at the Daily Bull have compiled a few safety tips to help more freshmen get through the rest of the semester.

Stay away from the edge of the MEEM roof. I know it looks like there's a quarter on the ledge, but it's actually just a piece of gum. Really disappointing.

Do not provoke moose, no matter how much they're looking for a fight.

Wait for cars to pass before crossing the street, unless you can totally make it.

Do not try to lift Portage Lift Bridge.

Don't smoke, it's bad for you.

If you are underage and attending a frat party where alcohol is present, be sure to inform a brother of your age so he can make sure you aren't accidentally served an alcoholic beverage.

Don't listen to a damn thing Pete says. Pete's an asshole who doesn't know what the fuck he's talking about.

When partaking in sexual intercourse, remember to be safe. Guns make for terrible sex toys.

Sometimes it's kill or be killed. Be ready to kill at any moment.

Know that life is always worth living, even if you're a stupid, lazy, sad sack of shit with no friends who could never be loved by anyone.

If on the verge of death, be sure to make a deal with the dark lord Satan in order to exchange your everlasting soul for more time on this Earth.

Never leave your room. ☹

GREAT SON OF LIFE
Alex Dinsmoor
MEAL TICKET
Zachary Evans

GRAND VIZIER
Elise Conley
SECRETARIAT
Kara Bakowski

USURER
Rico Bastian
ADVISOR
Ser David d'Olson

Typewriter Monkeys: Liz 'Riz' Fujita, Nathan 'Invincible' Miller, Jeanine 'Chmielewski', Jeremy 'Mr. Sunshine' Loucks, Sam 'Schall', Veronica Tabour, Chase Peterson, Corey Timdall, Theresa Tran, Abigail Skibowski, Evan Krettek, and the vicious lie of uncomfortable davenport.

©2013 by the Daily Bull, a non-profit organization. All rights reserved. Articles may be freely distributed electronically or on late night talk shows provided credit is given, and that this notice is included. The Daily Bull reserves the right to refuse any advertisements or articles without reason. All letters sent to the editor (on paper or to bull@mtu.edu) will be treated as material to be published unless expressly stated otherwise by the sender. Original works printed in the Daily Bull remain the property of the creator, however the Daily Bull reserves the right to reprint any submissions in future issues unless specifically asked not to do so by the creator. All opinions presented are purely those of the writer and do not reflect the opinions of the University or the Daily Bull. If you keep reading this small text, you will find yourself becoming self-aware.

The Daily Bull would like to thank the Daily Bull for buying our own damn printer that this publication is printed on. We would also like to thank the Student Activity Fee for helping to pay for our paper and toner costs. Advertising inquiries, questions & comments should be directed to bull@mtu.edu

The Daily Bull

Week 2

Career Development Education

Companies participating at these events this week:

Resume Blitz
Wednesday, MUB Commons
11:00 a.m – 2:00 p.m.

ArcelorMittal

CONTROLTEC
UNLOCKING THE POWER OF DATA

Industry Panel
Wednesday, MUB Commons
6:00 – 7:00 p.m.

GREENHECK
Building Value In Air.

Resume Blitz
Thursday, MUB Commons
11:00 a.m – 2:00 p.m.

JACKSON
NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

MERCURY
On The Water